LOVE OF MINE

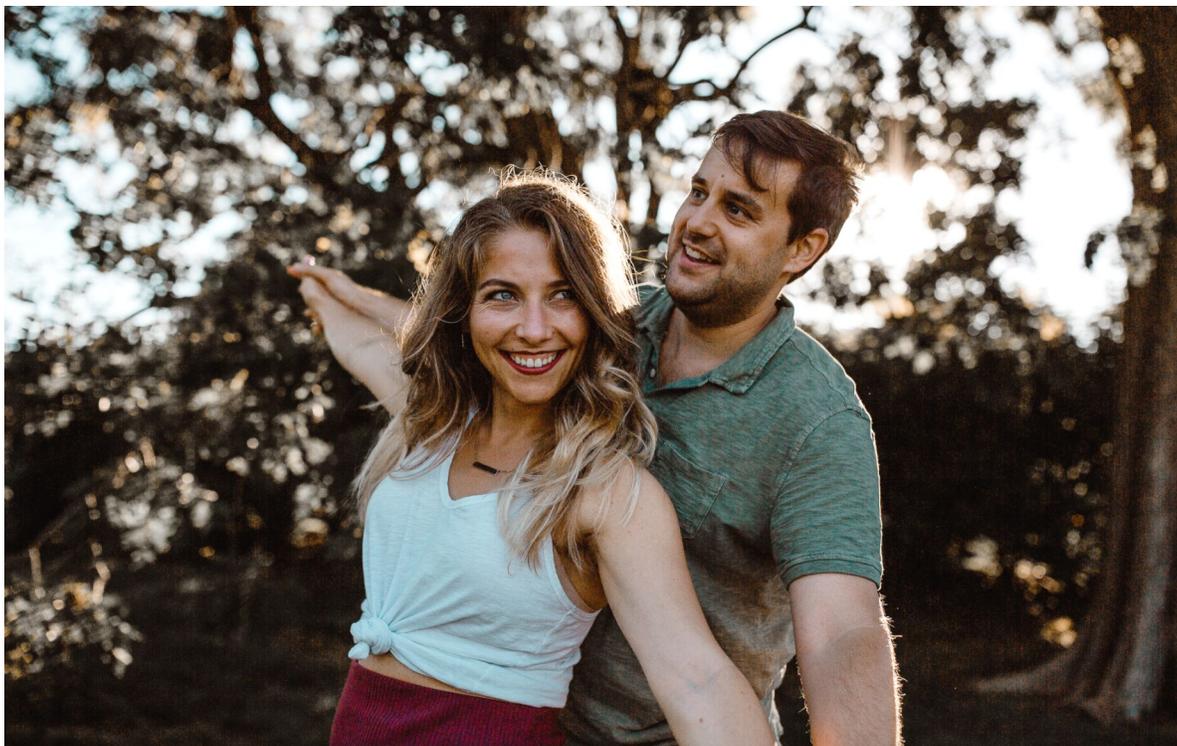

LOVE ROCKS

Have you ever thought to yourself, 'Gosh, I just wish I could find a stranger to follow us around and tell us when to kiss and it's not at all weird'? Great news, I can do that.

I love love. Picture the Kristen Wiig turtleneck excited GIF, and that's me internally when you start telling me your story. When couples ask me to hang out with them and tell their story visually, I (somehow manage to find a way to) get even more excited.

You can think of our time together as the most unique date you'll ever have, and that date night energy is all I'm asking for. Leave your fancy clothes at home and let's go run barefoot through a field if that's your thing. Maybe you're more of a city love, and glitzing up for a cocktail is your kind of night out. Either way, I'm here for it and I'm here for you.

No 'look at me and smile's here. I want the whispers, the giggles, and all the love in between.

Have I always loved you?
